

Carbonation in the processes can be conducted with any conventional carbonation method, such as storage with CO<sub>2</sub> headspace or impinging with CO<sub>2</sub> gas. Carbonation generally consists from 1.0 to 4.5 volumes of gas.